Numerical Modeling

Experiments Oct 04 2020 The polar regions of the earth are generally regions of net radiative energy deficit and maintain their climatic equilibrium by the receipt of energy transported from lower latitudes. However, the climate of the polar regions is itself largely determined by the global circulation pattern, and it is therefore difficult to separate the polar atmosphere from the remainder of the atmosphere. One may envision a hierarchy of numerical experiments, culminating in the design of improved global numerical models in which the role of the polar regions may be made clear. This report discusses the design and interpretation of numerical modeling experiments that illuminate those physical processes important in the arctic regions. The corresponding antarctic problems will be considered in later reports concerning POLEX-South.

Small City Big Paper Aug 14

2021 Small City Big Paper By: A-Town Avery Haigler aka A-Town better known as Mr. 803

was born and raised in Orangeburg, South Carolina. Growing up in the poverty stricken part of the city led Avery to a life of crime at a very young age. With his first arrest coming at the age of 9 years old. Always wanting more and having street savvy with book smarts to match led to a career criminal in the making. In and out of juvenile detention, jail and prison from the age of 10 up until his final arrest at the age of 26 that landed him in federal prison with a 10 year sentence for drug conspiracy and money laundering. Avery went from petty criminal to one of the largest drug dealers in his city during his era. From basically having nothing to becoming a millionaire off the drug trade all while in a small city known as Orangeburg. While incarcerated in the Federal Prison, Avery read numerous urban novels that depicted the drug scenes in major cities. He then realized that while he was from a small city, the drug scene in Orangeburg was on a major level like in bigger cities, which let him to writing this book. Letting readers know that even though Orangeburg is a small city, it's some Big Paper (serious money) being made there. Since his release from federal prison in March of 2017, Avery has been working a regular 9 to 5 job and enjoying life spending time with his family and 7 beautiful kids. Also, he has a promotion company called 'I Ain't Press Entertainment', in which he promotes parties, events and local artists. He is also investing into real estate with hopes of having 10 rental properties by his 40th birthday.

Paper Cities Oct 28 2022

Thought-provoking case studies on cities, photographs and books. Photographic books are almost as old as photography itself, and the city is one of their first and more recurring themes. Cities have been, and they continue to be, intensely photographed under a wide variety of forms, materialities, intentions and genres. This volume examines how a city can be moulded through the particularities of a photographic book, suggesting how urban portraits configure an overlooked, yet quite specific, photo-textual practice. Ranging from early photography to contemporary works, Paper Cities gathers thought-provoking case studies from several international contexts, providing new insights into art, material culture, history, heritage and memory, while simultaneously illuminating the debate on cities, photographs and books.
